NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following is less likely to accompany a contingency plan, either within the plan itself or in the form of an appendix?

A. Equipment and system requirements lists of the hardware, software, firmware and other resources required to support system operations.

- B. The Business Impact Analysis.
- C. Contact information for all personnel.
- D. Vendor contact information, including offsite storage and alternate site.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Why is this the correct answer? Simply because it is WRONG, you would have contact information for your emergency personnel within the plan but NOT for ALL of your personnel. Be careful of words such as ALL.

According to NIST's Special publication 800-34, contingency plan appendices provide key details not contained in the main body of the plan. The appendices should reflect the specific technical, operational, and management contingency requirements of the given system. Contact information for recovery team personnel (not all personnel) and for vendor should be included, as well as detailed system requirements to allow for supporting of system operations. The Business Impact Analysis (BIA) should also be included as an appendix for reference should the plan be activated.

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

As per AWS SLA if the instance is attached to an EBS-Optimized instance, then the Provisioned IOPS volumes are designed to deliver within 10% of the provisioned IOPS performance 99.9% of the time in a given year. Thus, if the user has created a volume of 1000 IOPS, the user will get a minimum 900 IOPS 99.9% time of the year.
