NEW QUESTION: 1

When searching for unassigned numbers to delete, an engineer learns that a DN needs to remain as parts of a call path. Without adding to a phone or CTI route point, what should the engineer do to ensure that all paths are honored?
A. click the Active check box
B. configure the AAR settings
C. enable the Forward No Coverage Paths
D. set the Forward Unregistered path.
Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2
Which BGP attribute can modify only an adjacent AS's optimal entry point into the local AS?
A. AS path
B. MED
C. community
D. local preference
Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3

Answer:
Explanation:
Explanation

Box 1: Readcommitted
Read Committed: A transaction T1 executing under this isolation level can only access committed data.
Pros: Good compromise between concurrency and consistency.
Cons: Locking and blocking. The data can change when accessed multiple times within the same transaction.
Box 2: Read Uncommitted
Read Uncommitted (aka dirty read): A transaction T1 executing under this isolation level can access data changed by concurrent transaction(s).
Pros: No read locks needed to read data (i.e. no reader/writer blocking). Note, T1 still takes transaction duration locks for any data modified.
Cons: Data is not guaranteed to be transactionally consistent.
Box 3: Serializable
Serializable: A transaction T1 executing under this isolation level provides the highest data consistency including elimination of phantoms but at the cost of reduced concurrency. It prevents phantoms by taking a range lock or table level lock if range lock can't be acquired (i.e. no index on the predicate column) for the duration of the transaction.
Pros: Full data consistency including phantom protection.
Cons: Locking and blocking. The S locks are held for the duration of the transaction that can lower the concurrency.

NEW QUESTION: 4
Which statement below MOST accurately describes configuration control?
A. Tracking the status of current changes as they move through the configuration control process
B. Assuring that only the proposed and approved system changes are implemented
C. Verifying that all configuration management policies are being followed
D. The decomposition process of a verification system into CIs
Answer: B
Explanation:
Configuration control is a means of assuring that system changes are approved before being implemented, only the proposed and approved changes are implemented, and the implementation is complete and accuratE. This involves strict procedures for proposing, monitoring, and approving system changes and their implementation. Configuration control entails central direction of the change process by personnel who coordinate analytical tasks, approve system changes, review the implementation of changes, and supervise other tasks such as documentation.
*Answer "The decomposition process of a verification system into CIs" is configuration identification. The decomposition process of a verification system into Configuration Items (CIs) is called configuration identification. A CI is a uniquely identifiable subset of the system that represents the smallest portion to be subject to independent configuration control procedures.
Answer "Tracking the status of current changes as they move through the configuration control process" is configuration accounting. Configuration accounting documents the status of configuration control activities and, in general, provides the information needed to manage a configuration effectively. It allows managers to trace system changes and establish the history of any developmental problems and associated fixes. Configuration accounting also tracks the status of current changes as they move through the configuration control process. Configuration accounting establishes the granularity of recorded information and thus shapes the accuracy and usefulness of the audit function.

*Answer "Verifying that all configuration management policies are being follow" is configuration audit. Configuration audit is the quality assurance component of configuration management. It involves periodic checks to determine the consistency and completeness of accounting information and to verify that all configuration management policies are being followeD. A vendors configuration management program must be able to sustain a complete configuration audit by an NCSC review team.
